

SHAKESPEARE

Therefore the moon, the governess of floods, Rides in her anger, washes all the earth.

That rheumatic disease may abound."

Whether the "pale moon" has increased the size of her wash as the world has increased in population may be a question, but it's a fact beyond question that Rheumatism has increased until it does "abound" in "all the air," and thousands of human beings are bound and tormented with the excruciating pains that only Rheumatism and Neuralgia can inflict.

This 15,000 majority in Maine is put down as another victory for the Star Bouters.

BLAINE should write another letter and explain what Kentucky minister was so ignorant of the laws of his state.

GEORGE O. JONES, a member of the New York state greenback committee, has resigned his position and denounced Butler.

In this emergency in Blaine's life a few more Mulligan letters might be handed out for the sake of keeping up all sides of this discussion.

The republican press seems to have very suddenly stopped hurrying over the result in Maine. The earthquake seems to have diverted attention.

The record of republican rule: A tariff which provides a surplus of at least $85,000,000 a year and which causes 700,000 idle men in the country, unable to obtain work. What prosperity!

It seems that Messrs. Mulligan and Fisher have a string about Blaine's neck which they yank at pleasure in order to keep things lively, and they generally succeed. Blaine, it seems, is still "useful" to them.

The Atlanta Constitution makes the point that the Kentucky minister who officiated at Blaine's first marriage, and who by-the-way is not mentioned in Blaine's reply and whose whereabouts are, it seems, unknown, was as ignorant of the marriage laws of Kentucky as was Blaine.

It is understood, and in fact asserted on republican authority, that Blaine has sanctioned and encouraged the slanderous attacks upon Governor Cleveland. Mr. Blaine, when attacked on the policy he has marked out for his own party to follow, begs that his family shall escape scandal. Blaine should learn the golden rule.

This proper step has been taken in New York in regard to the political operations of the G. A. R., as indicated by THE SENTINEL's telegraphic dispatches. This organization, has been, it is strongly asserted, in several instances, used for partisan purposes and the rules of the society violated. The rules should be enforced in every state.

RUMORS are current that the republican committee is about to launch another edition of slanderous attacks against Governor Cleveland. This proves that they are driven to the wall for material to conduct the campaign and also that they are not satisfied with Blaine's explanations of his own little affairs. Facing all these attacks, Grover Cleveland will stand as he stood in the past, saying, "Tell the truth." Blaine does not dare make the same request.

BLAINE is Mulligan's jumping-jack. He pulls the string and the circus begins.

We have failed to notice the full text of the Mulligan correspondence in the very independent News of this city, even after Mr. Blaine has requested that they be published in all his organs.

BLAINE, it is asserted, tried to buy the letters in Mulligan's possession by an offer of a consulship a few years ago, but Mulligan sent word to the magnetic Blaine that there was not enough money in the bank of England to buy them and that he did not want a consulship. And yet Blaine is willing that every voter in the country should read every one of those letters. Evidently he imagines that time has modified their harshness.

We have received a communication from a prominent democrat of LaSalle in which he denounces the statements made in the Gazette in regard to the political meeting at that place as malicious lies. He asserts that the meeting was only interrupted by a gang of roughs who shamefully beat and abused Mr. Shone, a prominent greenbacker, whom Mr. Keator had given permission to speak. Of such maliciousness is much of republican campaign material made.

REPUBLICAN papers have much to say in regard to slanderous attacks on Blaine and they hold up their hands in holy horror at the depravity of a campaign of slander. They forget, or try to persuade the people differently, that they first originated, published and reiterated slander most foul against Gov. Cleveland; that the republican national committee has industriously sent out reports of alleged indiscretions and acts of impropriety, whose falsehood and baseness have been clearly proven, which various sheets have published and which are even now being quietly peddled through various portions of the country, and yet they cry loudly against a personal campaign!

GOVERNOR HENDRICKS in his address last night made many telling points which were loudly cheered. He showed the enormous surplus of money accumulating in the public treasury and quoted President Arthur and the late Secretary Folger that the income of the government was far in excess of its demands. He contrasted the condition of the country with four years ago when republicans told the people that we were prosperous and a continuation of republican rule would add to each man's wealth. He contrasted an overstocked market, the decrease in the price of the products of soil and the thousands of mechanics now idle. He cited the number of mills and manufacturers running on short time or entirely suspended and the number of tramps throughout the country in support of the assertion that the party in power had not redeemed its pledges. He pointed out the sudden growth of friendship in the republican ranks towards the Germans and the Irish and with sharp, incisive words punctured the bubble and showed its inconsistency. That his remarks were appreciated was proven by the hearty applause which greeted every point.

BLAINE'S MANY MARRIAGES. The letter of Mr. Blaine, declaring that he was married secretly in Kentucky, has placed the Philadelphia Press, Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, and in fact most of the organs in an awkward fix. Soon after Blaine telegraphed instructions for his libel suit, they all printed a special from Richmond, Ind., giving an interview with a Mr. Parnell, who claimed to have been born in Millersburg, Ky., to have lived there fifty years, and to have attended the wedding of Mr. Blaine. He said he was present, as were the most of the other villagers, to witness the ceremony and the departure for the wedding tour. He further said: "There was nothing hasty or sub rosa about the marriage."

A little later the Commercial Gazette printed the following special from Paris, Ky., about the scandal and in defense of Blaine: "After the school had been in progress for some time, Mr. Blaine took a short vacation and went to Maine where he married Miss Harriet, at her home. Mrs. McKim, her sister, going there also to be present at the ceremony."

The Chicago Tribune, one of the most organic of the Blaine organs, sent a representative to Pittsburg to investigate the rumor that James G. Blaine was married in that city in 1851. After a very exhaustive inquiry, he reported that the man who was married in Pittsburg in March, 1851, was not James G. Blaine, but another Blaine, supposed to be a cousin of James G. The Associated Press, supposing this alleged discovery to be favorable to its favorite, sent the glad tidings broadcast throughout the country.

This proper step has been taken in New York in regard to the political operations of the G. A. R., as indicated by THE SENTINEL's telegraphic dispatches. This organization, has been, it is strongly asserted, in several instances, used for partisan purposes and the rules of the society violated. The rules should be enforced in every state.

The reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a preventative of epidemic diseases, an invigorant, a general restorative, and a specific for fever and ague, indigestion, bilious affections, rheumatism, nervous debility, constitutional weakness, is established upon the sound basis of more than twenty years experience. It can no more be shaken by the deepest nostrums of quackery than the most solid foundations of science. It is more than the everlasting hills, by the winds that rustle through their depths. For sale by all druggists and dealers generally.

RUPTURE Cure guaranteed by Dr. J. B. May, the successful specialist. Ease at once; no operation or delay from business; no expense of cures. All Aids, etc. Send for circular. Advice free at Cutler House, Fort Wayne, Ind. & 3000 each year.

THE Gazette attempts to cast unfair reflections upon such men as John H. Bass, Oscar Simons and William Fleming. Who has done more for the city of Fort Wayne than any one of these gentlemen mentioned? The paper which persists in the abuse of its own citizens, whose motives cannot be impeached, strikes a blow at the city's prosperity which the people will not fail to notice.

THE Indianapolis Sentinel asserts that Blaine's name appears on a bond given with the issuing of a marriage license to William A. McKim and Sarah E. Stanwood, a sister of his (Blaine's) wife, bearing date of October 3d, 1850, and recorded in the court records of Bourbon county, Kentucky. And yet it was not until the following March that he discovered that his own marriage solemnized as he says, in the same state in the June previous, was illegal. This is certainly another weak point in Blaine's defense.

The Terrible Drain

which scrofula has upon the system must be arrested, and the blood must be purified, or serious consequences will ensue. For purifying and vitalizing effects, Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found to be superior to any other preparation. It expels every trace of impurity from the blood and bestows new life and vigor upon every function of the body, enabling it to entirely overcome disease.

THE CITY.

The big fair.
The great fair.
The immense fair.
The Great Northern Indiana Fair at Fort Wayne, Sept 30, Oct. 1, 2 and 3.

Hendricks, Hord and Kern at the court house to-night.

Mrs. D. A. Woodworth and children have returned from Petoskey.

Three hundred Jenny electric lights are to be hung up at New Orleans.

O. L. Perry does a new "quarter" trick with skill and profit. Mr. Perry is an artist in any line of business.

Charles Bussey and wife and Misses Bussey and Bullerman, of this city, have been visiting friends in Huntington.

Water at the pumping basin is away down and the city now is at the mercy of the flames unless a heavy rain falls.

In Maumee township, this county, and in Paulding county, Ohio, the farmers have suffered severely from forest fires.

The total loss sustained by the Wabash railroad on account of the recent wrecks on the eastern division, will not exceed $3,500.

Louis Lacroix and Alexander Barnet had a fight in the city yesterday and Justice Ryan fined both them, who live near Academy station.

Eighteen steers are being fattened at Shelbyville, Ind., for the big barbecue.
All will be spitted and roasted at once.
Several Fort Wayne politicians will attend.

on. Thomas A. Hendricks, Hon.
Francis T. Hord and Hon. John W.
Kern will address the people of Fort Wayne from the court house steps tonight.

The Wabash has restored western passenger rates from Lafayette. The rate war is thus ceasing in spots, after the general passenger agents failed to put an end to it at a stroke.

George Gith, of Lafayette township, has taken out his second naturalization papers and will vote for Cleveland and Hendricks, although the republicans have circulated a report to the contrary.

Capt. J. B. White contemplated putting up an immense store building on the northeast corner of Calhoun and Wayne streets, if he can purchase a little more territory from adjoining property owners.

Mr. Edward F. Carey, junior member of the firm of Root & Co., here, telegraphed Mrs. E. C. Radore yesterday of his safe arrival in New York City.
Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Root came over on the same steamer.

There are three democratic meetings booked for the country this week. The first is at Emeric's corner to-morrow evening. The next is at Arcola Friday evening and the last is at James Sterning's residence Saturday evening. Hickory poles will be raised at each place.

Messrs. A. E. and W. H. Hoffman paid their respects to Hon. Thomas A.
Hendricks at the Hamilton mansion last night. The Messrs. Hoffman are formerly from the south but are warm admirers of Indiana's favorite son, who gracefully acknowledged the honor of their friendship.

Hon. James H. Rice, auditor of state, and Hon. John W. Kern, reporter of the supreme court, are at the Aveline House.
Mr. Kern reports the democratic prospects in the state brighter than ever in the history of the party. At 11 o'clock both gentlemen went to Pleasant Lake to join the excursion party.

In answer to numerous inquiries THE SENTINEL desires to say that second naturalization papers are not necessary to voters, and need not be taken out for that purpose. County Clerk Maier is asked to give second papers away but inasmuch as they are not necessary to cast a legal ballot, naturally enough, he refuses.

Spiegel's band, the pedestrian and a circus advertisement managed to collect 100 people in front of the court house last night, where one Dr. Cronin, of Chicago, spoke. The doctor did nicely until the democratic procession came along, but then the crowd scrambled away from him, leaving him to revel in his obscurity.

The receivers of the Wabash filed a petition in the United States court at St.
Louis Saturday morning for authority to pay interest on the Champaign, Western and Havana, $36,300, of which fell due June 1, and $11,931.50 July 1. The receivers state in their petition that the Champaign, Havana and Western is a good feeder, with excellent prospect.

The variety hall comedy, "A Bunch of Keys," was given at the Academy of Music last night. The play is by Charles H. Hoyt and is sometimes styled "The Hotel." The piece has no literary merit and is coarse. Miss Flora Moore is the star and some people think she can dance, sing and display a shapely ankle.
The girl was born in Fort Wayne, consequently she should not be criticized too severely, for people know just what they will see in a "Bunch of Keys."

Mrs. Ulrich Stots is convalescing after a severe illness of a week's duration.

It rained north and south of town yesterday quite hard. The showers fell in this country.

Hon. I. D. G. Nelson, has an article in the Indianapolis News, on the late Samuel L. Rugg, of this city.

The police did not make an arrest last night and the municipal tribunal was faced by no offenders this morning.

Geverack, a Madison township farmer, was spilled out of his wagon on West Main street last evening, by a runaway team.

Deputy Marshal Patton was at Wabash yesterday to testify in the case of a man named Shaffer, whom he arrested here for the theft of a watch.

Minehart, the Wallen blacksmith, dreamed that a neighbor named Kramer meant to do him harm, so he promptly had Kramer arrested for surety of the peace.

Sheriff Schiefer was out last night looking for the two horses stolen from William Black, of Milan township, last week. The animals were not stolen but strayed away and were found.

P. S. O'Rourke will deliver an address at the Academy of Music next Saturday evening. The Jeffersonian club will escort Mr. O'Rourke to the Academy, where Hon. Montgomery Hamilton will introduce him.

George Lawrence, the North Manchester banker who escaped from the state insane asylum, has been discovered in Michigan disguised as a spectacle peddler. The erratic banker is now with relatives at North Manchester.

Hon. T. A. Hendricks, ex-Senator Thurman, Governor Hoadly and Gen.
Durbin Ward spoke to from 25,000 to 40,000 people at Hamilton, Ohio, Saturday.
Governor Hendricks said last night it was the largest assembly he ever witnessed.

Yesterday H. C. Graffe's jewelry store was connected by wire with Allegheny City, Pa., from which point he will receive the correct standard time at four o'clock each afternoon. Pittsburg linemen put up the wires for Mr. Graffe, who is the official time keeper of the road at this point.

Mr. Anselm Fuebler, city editor of the Baltimore Zeitung, has been invited to shortly address the citizens of the Fifth ward. Mr. Fuebler is a scholarly gentleman and for a time studied law in Germany. He is a graduate of the Prussian gymnasium and a master of the German, Greek, Latin and English languages.

Mr. Joe Clark while in New York purchased a "Mino Bird," a rare species in this country. They are found principally in the East Indies and the archipelagoes, and are obtained from sailors.
This one can be easily taught to talk and mimic, and, although but very young, asks for food and drink and bids you good morning in a distinct tone.

Hon. E. L. Chittenden has been asked to assume control of the literary department of the county central committee rooms. Although defeated in the nominating convention Mr. Chittenden is doing good work for the party, and his manliness will not be forgotten. In the committee room Mr. Chittenden will be a host. He is a brilliant conversationalist and has a wide acquaintance.

Lake, the pedestrian, has not asked a penny from any person in Fort Wayne and, singular to state, a few individuals beudge him the privilege of walking about the court house. Last evening a ruffian spit in Lake's face and later a fellow kicked the pedestrian on the shins. Lake was carried to the track all night on a stretcher and limped around the court house. To-day he is better and can resume his speed to-night unless some cranky losier interferes with him.

The Warsaw folks are making great preparations to receive the G. A. R. boys next Saturday. The Times says:

"All the boats on the three lakes bordering on this place, will be assembled on Center and Pike lakes for the use of the visitors on that day, and the grounds between the two lakes will be fitted up for the occasion. The Warsaw band will be out also and furnish music for the day.
In short, the hospitalities of our little city will be freely given to the visitors from the 'Old Fort' on that occasion, and a very pleasant time will be the result, no doubt."

Judge McBride, who presides in the superior court here at the trial of the Aldrich-Godfrey land cases, has just rendered a decision in the famous Steuben tax assessment cases. He held that what is known as the "unassessed two-thirds" could not be assessed by the auditor, that is, an assessment once made and having once passed the board of equalization, could not be increased, although perchance assessors had rated property worth $10,000 at $1,000. It was also held that the contract with the auditor whereby he was to receive 1 per cent. of one-third of all property listed by him and his experts was void. It was further held that while the contract was void, and no compensation could be had under it, the assessments made on all omitted property back as far as 1881, were valid.
Concerning the last point an appeal has been taken to the supreme court.

The receivers of the Wabash filed a petition in the United States court at St.
Louis Saturday morning for authority to pay interest on the Champaign, Western
and Havana, $36,300, of which fell due June 1, and $11,931.50 July 1. The receivers state in their petition that the Champaign, Havana and Western is a

A GRAND OVATION.

The People of Fort Wayne Turn Out En Mass to Welcome the Next Vice President—His Neal Response and Other Gossip of the Gala Occasion.

At 7:15 last night the Wabash express whirled Indiana's great statesman, Hon.
Thomas A. Hendricks, into Fort Wayne.
When the distinguished gentleman stepped upon the car platform a sea of admiring faces met his gaze and a thousand voices welcomed him to the metropolis of Northern Indiana. A committee of Jeffersonians escorted Mr. Hendricks to the McKinney house, where he ate supper.
In the meantime the Jeffersonian club and democratic first voters formed on Berry and Court streets and at 7:30 in an immense procession, headed by the City band, moved towards the south depot. The Jeffersonians preceded the carriage containing Mr. Hendricks, then followed the first voters, after the great statesman had been driven through their open ranks. The streets were thronged all along the line of march and everywhere Indiana's favorite son was greeted with the utmost enthusiasm and cordiality. He gracefully bowed his acknowledgement. The residences along which the procession moved were tastefully illuminated and decorated with flags and pictures of Cleveland and Hendricks.
Arriving at the mansion home of Hon.
Montgomery Hamilton, the great procession and the vast concourse of people that followed it, formed in front of the house, from the doorstep of which Mr.
Hendricks briefly addressed the audience.
He said he could scarcely acknowledge his gratitude for the ovation tendered by the people of Fort Wayne; an ovation that any man might ever look back upon with pride and emotion. But back of this great demonstration was a moving spirit —a spirit that prompted the people to demand a change in the governmental policy that in the past four years had cut down the price of wheat almost in half; a policy that filled the people with distrust, closed manufactures, stopped mining and paid workmen but poorly for their labor. The people recognized their great constitutional prerogative and would demand an account of past stewardship. The gentleman warmed up to his theme and said the government was building a new vault to store away the surplus money collected from the people at the rate of $85,000,000 a year. He wanted to give to the government all the money it legitimately needs, all that belongs to it, but insisted that the rest be left in the pockets of the people. Mr.
Hendricks paid a nice tribute to the independence and honesty of the Germans, whom he said the republicans were scolded now. "We find," said he, "the republican party making its bow to the Irish people for the first time in its history, but it will do them no good. Your father and my father," said Governor Hendricks, addressing himself to the Irish people especially, "helped to elect Gen.
Andrew Jackson president of the United States. We have lived in the same household ever since and we have been your friends. The democratic party has always protected you as well as other foreign born citizens; has always fought your battles and always will as long as the American flag waves."

Mr. Hendricks again thanked his hearers, and was greeted by the most enthusiastic applause. Frequently during his brief speech Mr. Hendricks was applauded and later held an informal reception in the parlor of Mr. Hamilton's residence, where he warmly grasped hundreds of his friends by the hand.
Mr. Hendricks is growing old and the fatigue of the campaign tells on him, but the moment he rises to speak the glow of youth returns to his cheeks and his face is a picture. To THE SENTINEL representative Mr. Hendricks said he had been tendered a most cordial and enthusiastic reception everywhere and was certain the cause of democracy grew in strength with each day.
"How is Ohio going to go?" was asked.

"Well," said Mr. Hendricks, "Senator Thurman tells me the democrats would win if the election was held now, but what a few weeks will develop I cannot tell. Still, there is no reason for a change in the political aspect."

What are the advices from other states?

"They are bright; very bright, and the people everywhere are aroused to a sense of their duty. I heard Hon. Carl Schurz some days ago and he doing a great work. He puts the case so forcibly that I was moved by his reasoning, but then the people of Fort Wayne will hear him, as he is to speak here after the Ohio campaign."

The rest of the evening was spent in a social way and at 8:30 this morning the governor went to Pleasant Lake with the big excursion and spoke this afternoon.
This evening he returns and with Messrs.
Hord and Kern will address the voters of Fort Wayne on the issues of the day from the court house.

CHISELING THE WALL.

O'Neill, Werst and Richards Concur Bold Scheme to Break Jail.

On last Sunday Sheriff Schiefer made his customary inspection of the jail and casually discovered quite a hole cut into the center wall, at a point shaded by the corridor benches. Yesterday the sheriff watched the spot from the office and soon discovered O'Neill, the thief, at work chiseling the heavy stone to pieces.
At his side stood Charley Werst and

LYON'S KOZOTHIUM.
A Gift to the Gray and a Boon to the Bald!

BEFORE USING.

AFTER USING.

Lyon's Kozothium is not a dye, but a clear, fragrant oil, and acts purely as a tonic to the hair follicles and capillary circulation of the scalp, whereby it restores the natural action, and

RESTORES THE NATURAL COLOR
To the hair, rendering it soft and beautiful. This wonderful remedy, unlike all its predecesors, is ENTIRELY FREE FROM SULPHUR, NITRATE or SILVER

And all noxious and deleterious chemicals. It has fast friends wherever known and used; it deposits no sediment upon the scalp, does not stain the skin nor soil the most delicate fabric, and is an

ELEGANT AND DELIGHTFUL HAIR DRESSING,
And an indispensable article to every lady's toilet. To middle-aged men, who are prematurely bald, or becoming bald, it is especially recommended, and when fairly and properly used, will never fail in arresting the falling off of the hair and encouraging a vigorous and abundant growth of new and healthy hair.

From a Well-known, Prominent Clergyman.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 12, 1884.

Meers, A. Kiefer & Co. Gentlemen—I have an antipathy to all hair dressers, and have a few weeks ago, however, given way to the persistent entreaty of a friend, I tried Lyon's Kozothium. I am delighted with it. My hair which was very gray, has been restored to its former black. It is no longer harsh and coarse, but is smooth, strong and beautiful, and my scalp feels better than it has for years. I cheerfully bear testimony to the fact that Lyon's Kozothium is a true restorer of the health and natural color of the hair, and clean remedy. It is a 'cure' only a cleanly remedy, but it is a 'cure' that cures dreams, and now that I know its virtues, I will not, under any circumstances, be without it.

Yours very truly, W. F. QUIGLEY.

From one of the Best Known Insurance Men in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 5, 1884.

Meers, A. Kiefer & Co. Gentlemen—I have an antipathy to all hair dressers threatening me with baldness. I used Ayer's Hair Dresser, Hall's Hair Renewer and other remedies with no effect. My scalp has always given me trouble; being covered with scales, the result of a pernicious affection. Recently I was prompted to try Lyon's Kozothium. The effect was wonderful. Not only was the fall of hair promptly arrested, and a new growth of hair stimulated in its stead, but the scales were removed from the scalp, which is no longer fiery and uncomfortable, cut cool and healthy hair, which was exceedingly gray, has recovered its natural color, ceased to break off, and is now as soft, elastic and glossy as anyone need desire. As a hair restorer I now find it indispensable, and induces it heartily for all purposes for which it is recommended. MRS. FANNIE E. WANSLEY.

Yours very truly, B. E. BURDERSLEY.

From a Lady of Gray County.

BRAZIL, Ind., July 7, 1884.

Meers, A. Kiefer & Co. Indianapolis: Gentlemen—Having but little hair on our head, I was after much hesitation, and with great reluctance, induced to try a bottle of Lyon's Kozothium. My hair was gray, coarse and harsh, and so for years, when you consider the result of its use, I would break off. Upon using the Kozothium, the hair became soft and pliable, a clean soft and no irritation, and this on the head of a man over fifty. I have no hesitation in saying it is the best hair restorer extant, and from trial I do not believe it is a particle of anything dangerous in it.

Yours truly, REV. B. MILLER.
